Take only pictures leave only footprints...
~ Unknown

I went to the woods because I wanted to live deliberately...
~Henry David Thoreau

For in the true nature of things, if we rightly consider, every green tree is far more glorious than if it were made of gold and silver.
~Martin Luther

Between every two pines is a doorway to a new world.
~John Muir

I hear the wind among the trees
Playing the celestial symphonies;
I see the branches downward bent,
Like keys of some great instrument.
~Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

And this, our life, exempt from public haunt, finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything.
~William Shakespeare

Alone with myself
The trees bend to caress me
The shade hugs my heart.
~Candy Polgar

The trees are whispering to me, reminding me of my roots, and my reach... shhhhhh... can you hear them? Selflessly sharing their subtle song.
~Jeb Dickerson

Happiness flutters in the air whilst we rest among the breaths of nature.
~Kelly Sheaffer

Look at the trees, look at the birds, look at the clouds, look at the stars... and if you have eyes you will be able to see that the whole existence is joyful.
~Osho

Adopt the pace of nature: her secret is patience.
~Ralph Waldo Emerson

As you sit on the hillside, or lie prone under the trees of the forest, or sprawl wet-legged by a mountain stream, the great door, that does not look like a door, opens.
~Stephen Graham

I only went out for a walk and finally concluded to stay out till sundown, for going out, I found, was really going in.
~John Muir

To sit in the shade on a fine day and look upon verdure is the most perfect refreshment.
~Jane Austen

One touch of nature makes the whole world kin.
~William Shakespeare

Look deep into nature, and then you will understand everything better.
~Albert Einstein

Nature is my medicine.
~Sara Moss-Wolfe

Nature does not hurry, yet everything is accomplished.
~Lao Tzu

If you truly love Nature, you will find beauty everywhere.
~Vincent Van Gogh

Nature holds all the answers - go outside and ask some questions - open your heart and listen to the response!
~Amethyst Wyldfyre

The trees are God's great alphabet:
With them He writes in shining green
Across the world His thoughts serene.
~Leonora Speyer
